

THE CITIZEN.

FRIDAY, MARCH 14, 1879.

The Rush.

Do our citizens realize what numbers of people are arriving in Tucson every day? We often hear the remark that the streets show many strange faces, and we know that nearly all the available house-room is occupied. But hundreds who arrive in the town do not stop longer than to supply themselves with provisions. The CITIZEN office is on the high road from the north, and the travel thence passes its doors. It comes in an almost continuous procession, largely composed of freight teams, of course; but frequently in the day wagons of all sizes, kinds and qualities roll in, each carrying as many men as can hold on, with their bags, boxes and general outfit for the mines, and what not. Wear and tear seem to have had pretty good opportunities at some. Old men, old horses, old wagons, and old stuff so knocked to pieces and used up that nothing but the idea of going ahead can hold them together. But nine out of ten will go to the hills and try over again what they have tried before—to find their fortunes in the stones. We hope enough will succeed to keep off anything like panic. Not all will succeed, and it the crowd gets too great there may be suffering for necessities. Our mines are not like those in other localities where great rushes have prevailed, and where men could take a shovel and a pan and after a day's work have a day's wages in hand. Here there must be working and waiting for the prospector. And after the waiting, it remains to be seen whether there will be enough to go around.

District Mining Laws Must be Obeyed.

The nineteenth district court in California on the 7th instant, decided that the local or district mining laws must be complied with, and the points upon which the decision was made are these: The district law required work to be done upon the mine every sixty days and the United States law a certain amount during a year. This confirms a decision or departmental ruling made not long since that a district law compelling work to be performed several times during the year was not in conflict with the United States law, provided the whole amount of work required did not exceed a cost of $100. This is, in our opinion, a proper construction of the law, and while it may in some instances cause inconvenience to claimants, it better promotes development and discourages a monopoly of mining ground for a whole year for merely speculative purposes. Hundreds of locations are made by men with no purpose of ever doing any work upon them, and when made in accordance with law can be held a whole year to the injury of the great mining interest. Decisions of this kind will encourage actual miners to compel assessment work more than once a year.

More Capital Coming.

We are informed that Col. W. G. Boyle will be in Arizona in about a week or ten days, accompanied by several gentlemen of large means who are coming to examine our mines and invest if suited. It is positively stated that Col. Boyle is at the head of an English company, commanding immense capital and whose purpose it is to make an expedition into Arabia to locate and develop the wonderful gold ledges which are known to exist there. After Mr. Boyle has shown his present party the wonders of Southern Arizona he will return to England to take charge of the expedition which was organized in pursuance of a concession made, by the Khedive of Egypt, to an association of prominent and wealthy English gentlemen among whom are Sir John McDonald, Sir George Elliot and Col. Wm G. Boyle. This expedition promises most important results, and will embark from England next September. The facts and acts which led to this expedition fill a small volume of almost amazing interest. They sound like fables but are nothing of the kind. Mr. Geo. Cooler, of Tucson, has been tendered the position of master of transportation in the expedition.

Meyers Mining District—New and Promising.

March 8th, C. H. Horne writes to a friend in Tucson as follows: There is a new mining camp struck here. It is about fifty miles south by west of Gila Bend. One location called the Gunsight, made by Lockhart, Myers, Marshall and Ward shows "way up." Four hundred pounds of ore shipped to San Francisco worked at the rate of $2800 per ton. About thirty locations have been made, but no work to amount to anything has yet been done. Myself and two partners have five locations. We are waiting to get returns from ore sent for assays. I think this will make a good camp. Most of the veins are large. The best way to come here by buggy is by way of Gila Bend to the old Ajo copper mine from which it is only twenty miles.

A BILL is pending in the Pennsylvania legislature to appropriate four million dollars to pay the damages inflicted upon the sufferers by the Pittsburgh railroad riots in July, 1877.

The New Popular Loan—Starting the Ten Dollar Bonds.

WASHINGTON, March 13.—The Treasury Department to-day issued a circular inviting collectors and receivers of public moneys, postmasters, and all other public officers under the Federal Government to become agents for the sale of the ten-dollar four per cent. refunding certificates. Any such officer requesting it, will be promptly designated as a depository, and upon his filing a bond will receive a supply of certificates. A commission of one eighth of one per cent. will be allowed on the sale of certificates, and a like commission to banks and others purchasing them directly of the Treasurer or Assistant Treasurer of the United States, in sums not less than one thousand dollars.

Revenue Deficiencies.

WASHINGTON, March 13.—At the Cabinet meeting to-day the Secretary of the Treasury Department presented, for the information of the President and to be embodied in the message to the extra session of Congress, a statement showing the probable receipts and expenditures for the next fiscal year, and the necessity of making provision for the payment of arrears of the Revenue Laws.

New Arizona Postoffices.

WASHINGTON, March 13.—New post-offices have been established in Arizona as follows: Cottonwood, Wm. McMichael to be postmaster; Tip Top, W. A. Rowe, postmaster; Silver King, S. P. Thayer, postmaster.

The Sherman.

NEWPORT, RHODE ISLAND, March 13.—Mrs. General W. T. Sherman died this evening. General Sherman is very low, and there are but slight hopes of his recovery. [This is the report; but it seems a little strange, as it is only a few days since General Sherman was at New Orleans, on a tour of inspection. Ed.]

The Speakership.

NEW YORK, March 13.—According to the latest advice, Randall seems to be losing ground for the Speakership and Blackburn (Ky.) appears to be gaining. Great stress is being laid on the fact that Randall is a teetotaler, while Blackburn treats his visitors in true northern style. The World comes out strongly in favor of Blackburn this morning, declaring that the reelection of Randall would, in many ways, be undesirable. The Tribune says that the lobbyists, from beginning to end, are against Randall, but not necessarily in favor of Blackburn. The Times says that the opposition to Randall is very decided, and that Blackburn is developing more strength than was anticipated. Still it does not think Randall can be defeated.

Texas Homicides Arrested.

ST. LOUIS, March 13.—A special from Texas states that several of the Mexican murderers of Judge Howard and Messrs. Atkinson and McBride, at San Elazario, several months ago, have been arrested and placed in jail. Their friends threaten a rescue.

Moses in Washington.

PORTLAND, OR., March 13.—General Howard and Governor Terry, of Washington, Ty., have started for Yakima City with the purpose of interviewing Chief Moses if possible. While there they will fully investigate the situation and report the same. Moses, at last accounts, was with his people at Priest's Rapids. Serious trouble is anticipated should the civil authorities attempt to use any coercion in arresting Moses.

Another Coast Fire.

ASHLAND, OR., March 13.—A fire this morning burned everything on the west side of Main street, from McColl's store to the bridge. Loss $300,000.

California Municipal Elections.

SACRAMENTO, March 13.—At the municipal election to-day the Republicans made a clean sweep, beating both Democrats and Workingmen.

OAKLAND, March 13.—At the municipal election in this city to-day the Workingmen elected the Mayor and the two Councilmen. The Citizens' ticket carried the rest of the offices.

Silver King, $8.50; Tip Top, $0.85. England in the East.

LONDON, March 13.—A Times special says that Admiral Hornby, commanding the British fleet in the Sea of Marmora, has been instructed to sail for Besika Bay on Wednesday next.

Southern Pacific Railroad.

BURKE, March 14.—The railroad track is laid fifteen miles beyond Stanwix, and the grading is finished fifteen miles beyond that.

T. J. MORGAN, Esq., the popular Prescott jeweler, returned from the Southern part of the Territory on Saturday. Mr. Morgan reports times as being very brisk and business good in Tucson and neighborhood. The population there is rapidly increasing and all feel hopeful for the future. Mr. Morgan will on the 1st of April establish a branch of his business at Tucson, and we feel confident that he will give as thorough satisfaction to the people there as he has here.—Enterprise, March 10.

Friendly Voice for Maine.

Some weeks ago THE CITIZEN presented an item as follows:

And now, of all places in the world, they have a mining excitement away down east, in staid old Maine, where we supposed they could raise nothing but brown bread, baked beans and chewing gum. A friend of Mr. S. M. Allen, writing him of a number of mines there, describes one in particular, in Sullivan county, Maine, as follows:

A lady down in Maine discovered this item and writes thus:

"This slip I cut from THE CITIZEN. Now I want you to ask Mr. Clum to ask Mr. Allen to ask that friend of his, in what part of Maine Sullivan county is situated? Tell him, also, that he is woefully ignorant in regard to Maine's capacity for raising things. Every State and Territory in the Union will bear witness that she can and has raised men and women equal to the production of any other State, and that little silver mine in the town of Sullivan, is only one of many, to say nothing of gold, granite, copper, and slate, all of which are worked to a greater or less extent. Perhaps granite and slate do not exactly constitute mines, but they are worked anyhow, to say nothing of ice which we can raise as much—ton for ton—as Arizona can of silver and gold ore. Come to think of it, I don't know that copper has ever been found in paying quantities, but I'll stick to the rest."

ARIZONA is making a determined effort to get her resources properly before the East. Governor Fremont and Judge Silent, of the Supreme Court, are about to undertake a mission there for the purpose of inviting Eastern capitalists to assist in the development of the Territory. They will take with them specimens of her mineral and other resources, and will make their headquarters in New York.

The above is from the Stock Report of the 8th, and we suppose that paper speaks advisedly, since the Governor was in San Francisco about that time. But we understood the matter differently, and fully believed that the Governor and suite constituted an "Embassy" to Washington for certain defined purposes connected with the Salt River country. For the moment we had forgotten the "Development" institution of which the Governor is the eminent head.

PROFESSOR NEWBERY, in the course of a lecture delivered before the New York Bullion Club, a few days since, exhibited specimens of mineral wax, or native paraffine, which has been found in small quantities in Galicia and other points in southeastern Europe, while in southern Utah and northern Arizona there is an area many miles square abounding in this natural product in deposits sometimes twenty feet thick, ready to be melted down and made into candles at once, and worth $25 per ton for use in making illuminating gas.

NEVADA papers say nine or ten feet of snow was deposited in the mountains of that state during the recent storms.

ALL the papers up north are now comforting Reno in the manner of Job's friend: "We told you so!"
